

Jeannie Had a Little Lamb Game

Song found in the August/September 2007 issue of Music Express

The players join hands and go round girl in middle of ring. During the singing of the first verse, the girl waves her hands up and down. At the word "jig" she stops opposite one of the ring girls. During the "E-I-O" chorus, she goes round arm in arm with this girl; and she does the same with the girl directly opposite, so that the three trace out a figure of eight. The first girl chosen from the ring now stands in the center for the next game. The game has been adapted so that the second player chosen, rather than the first, swings into the center for the next round. The center player's name is sung in place of "Jeannie."
